Azerbaijan National Agency for Mine Action (ANAMA)

Mine Action for Sustainable Development
Are we utilizing/referring to what is there in the tool box?

Gazanfar AHMADOV
Director
ANAMA
Humanitarian Mine Action is an idea presented to the higher Government officials (new word to be included in the Government’s dictionary)

New born Azerbaijan facing the problems of mines and ERWs that do not seem too important as those of development/post war recovery in the overall state priority list.

No Technical or Institutional capacity for implementing Humanitarian Mine Action Activities

Lack of state funds to support such processes

No International Partner to follow the long and hard path

Internally displaced people desperate to get settled in war affected and newly liberated areas immediately yet not their own villages.

Known and unknown areas of massive concentration of formerly used ammunition depots of Soviet time mostly turned into AXO graveyards.
ANAMA STRATEGIC GOVERNMENT PARTNERSHIPS

- ANAMA integrated into State Socio-Economic Development Program since 2004.
- Mine Awareness program is handed over to the Ministry of Education as part of school curriculum in war affected and regions of military existence.
- Mine Victims Assistance has been advocated to the Ministry of Health and Social Protection through various pilot projects.
- 90% of the MA work is funded from the State Budget.
- Recognized as local partner in HMA for International Actors of State Importance.
- Provides platforms for regional cooperation/shares its expertise.
