

Update from CISR at JMU for MASG meeting 4 Dec 25:

The Journal of Conventional Weapons Destruction remains on hiatus following termination of US government funding for its production earlier this year. CISR is currently working to connect several sources of support for the Journal in order to resume the publication, and we are looking for additional commitments from our partners, including potential sponsors and advertisers. Please contact CISR Executive Director Christie Kilby directly (kilbyca@jmu.edu) or through our website at j.mu/cisr if you are interested in supporting the continuation of this important community resource.

CISR at JMU is also seeking to gauge interest in senior management training for high-level managers in mine action programs in order to inform future course offerings. If you are currently in a senior role within your organization and would be interested in receiving such training or would like to recommend someone to participate, please fill out the interest form on CISR's website to indicate your interest, linked on our homepage (j.mu/cisr).
